AMERICAN BAR MEETS

Convention at Montreal Will Result in the Formation of Plans For a Complete Reform of the Rules of Pleading and Practice

Washington, Aug. 28.—Federal and state judges from every state will confer tomorrow night at Montreal, Canada at the American Bar association meeting to formulate plans for a complete reform of the rules of pleading and practice on the law side of the supreme court of the United States and all federal district courts and eventually make uniform the practice in all courts of the United States. The aim is to eliminate delay and reduce the expense of all litigation.

The method to be discussed will be to obtain legislation from congress to permit the supreme court of the United States, of its own motion, to reform its law rules just as it already has its equity rules and soon will make uniform the admiralty and bankruptcy rules. It also is hoped to obtain legislation to give the supreme court superintendence over the rules of pleading and practice in all federal and state courts.

A memorandum embodying the proposed changes, prepared by W. R. Hughes, of the department of justice, is to be the basis for the reforms proposed at the Montreal meeting at which Attorney General McReynolds will be present. It is understood that the proposed changes have the endorsement of the American Bar association.

THAW'S AIDE AT LIBERTY

"Gentleman Roger" Thompson, the Chauffeur Who Drove Auto From Matteawan Secures Release on $500 Bond—Thaw May Remain in Jail Until October Term of Court

Sherbrooke, Quebec, Aug. 28.—"Gentleman Roger" Thompson, the New York chauffeur, who whirled Harry K. Thaw away from Matteawan in an automobile, walked the streets of Sherbrooke today a free man. Police Magistrate Mulvena admitted him to $500 bail after he had appeared for trial charged with aiding Thaw, a lunatic and therefore an undesirable, to enter the Dominion. F. Campbell, for the immigration department, announced to the court that he wished to press first the charge of Thompson having entered Canada by stealth.

Thompson's counsel, Louis St. Laurent, acting with the Thaw counsel, objected to proceeding on this charge and at their request the adjournment was granted.

William Travers Jerome, district Attorney Conger of Dutchess county, Deputy Attorney General Franklin Kennedy and others here trying to get Thaw back to Matteawan were in court.

With Thaw in jail for an indefinite period, probably till the session of the king's bench in October, and the Thompson case postponed indications were today that there had set in a decided lull in matters pertaining to Stanford White's slayer.

Jerome's unproductive visit to Quebec, where he had hoped to see the premier and attorney general, brought the case back to where it was when Thaw was first committed to the Sherbrooke jail. Messrs. Jerome and Kennedy were still here today but what move, if any, New York would make next, they would not say. Thompson's bail was supplied by the Thaw family. They have done all in their power to ease his position, following his veiled threat to "squelch" and reveal who was behind the plot that resulted in Thaw's liberation.

The fire department turned out to fight the blaze, but its efforts are said to have lacked skillful application.

HEALTH OF SOLDIERS.

Washington, Aug. 28.—The high degree of health maintained at the army maneuvers camp at Texas City and Galveston, Tex., where 12,000 men have been under tents for the last six months, has convinced army medical officers that there will be no repetition of the sick camps which marked Spanish war days. It was pointed out at the surgeon general's office today that in the six months since the mobilization of the troops, there has been no case of typhoid fever among the men. No case of smallpox and but few cases of measles and mumps. Typhoid and smallpox have been kept away by the use of vaccine and malaria has been all unknown, due to the drainage of the camp.

LEPER ESCAPES TO SUNNY ITALY

Port Townsend, Wash., Aug. 28.—Dominick Pittori, a leper, who escaped from the Diamond Point quarantine station several weeks ago, reached Italy safely in spite of warnings sent to police and health authorities all over the United States and Canada. News of Pittori's arrival in Italy was received today on a postcard mailed at Naples and dated August 13. The postcard, which was signed by Pittori, was addressed to John Early, a Spaniard-American war veteran, afflicted with leprosy, who is employed as an attendant at the station.

When Pittori escaped he had only $6 in his pocket, but he made his way to New York, with the assistance of an Italian secret society to which he belonged, and from there he took passage to Europe.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—Rutherford Corbin, son of the late General Henry C. Corbin, and Miss Amy Valentine Armstrong of St. Louis today announced their marriage at Waukegan, Ill., yesterday.

today did not become fully established until several centuries after the death of Confucius in 479 B. C. Confucius was never worshipped as a god, although it was the custom of the emperor of China to offer sacrifices officially in the name of and to the memory of the mighty philosopher. There seems to be no inconsistency in continuing the teaching of Confucian morals and maxims to the children of China and in permitting them to also learn of Jesus and the Bible. Apart from the religious phase of the question, the educational value of these same and human Confucian principles is of great value. At the same time, knowledge gleaned in the public schools of the Ten Commandments and the sermon on the mount will result only in good to the rising generation in China.

local uprisings in this country, but it is equally certain that the striving between the adherents of confucius and the disciples of Christ to influence the modern system of education which is being slowly established all over the land will lead to misunderstandings and heartburnings.

The commissioner of education of progressive Kuangtung province, of which Canton is the capital, has just issued an order that "as it is against the school law, no school may give instruction in the Confucian classics." This official also indicated his wish that the study of the Bible be an optional subject in his province, which boasts about 20,000,000 inhabitants. This province was the first in China to provide a graded system of public instruction whereby graduates of high school, etc., may pass into the next highest school without a formal entrance examination.

On the other hand, President Yuan Shih Kai has been asked by Confucian scholars, many of whom have also been thoroughly trained abroad, and claim to have a proper appreciation of Christianity in its place, to enforce the teaching of the great sage

The large element of foreigners, assisted by some Chinese, who deplore the possibility of a controversy at this time are asking Why not both? They hold that neither doctrine has a monopoly on noble principles and high ideals. They point out what zealots on both sides seem to forget, i. e., that Christianity is a religion while Confucianism is a system of ethics. The cult of Confucianism as practiced
